In We regret to learn that our much esteemed townsman, Bezaleel Cushman, Esq. has been obliged to give up the school for lads which he recently opened, on account of the infirm state of his health. The school room occupied by him, has been taken by L. S. Ward, Esq.; a young gentleman from Saco, who comes here highly recommended. He will give instruction "in the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish and German languages, together with the English branches usually taught in our high schools." Mr. W.'s advertisement containing the names of his references, will be found in another column.

The Millerites. At Bangor, nine Millerites were sent to the House of Correction as common vagrants. The trials caused great excitement.

These persons were complained of as vagrants, having no visible means of support. For men from Orrington were adjudged guilty & sentenced to thirty days each in the house of correction.

Samuel Webster Jr. of Exeter thirty days, Daniel Oakes of Bangor fifteen days, Nancy Oakes and Eliza Oakes, daughters of Daniel, five days each, and Charles E. Bodge of Bangor, five days.

Lecture Before the Society of Natural History.

Mr Editor: Notwithstanding the unpleasant weather on Wednesday eve, a full attendance was at the City Hall, to hear the Lecture by Mr BECKETT, before the Society of Natural History, and I venture to say not one of that goodly number went away without having been interested and instructed. The lecturer evidently made an effort to avoid a fault committed by previous lecturers in speaking too low and consequently relieved his hearers from the necessity of that breathless attention which soon becomes painful in listening to the most interesting discourse. After some prefatory remarks calculated to remove the impression too prevalent in the community, that Natural History is of comparatively little importance, uninteresting and undeserving general attention—The lecturer referred to the two grand divisions of Rishi-
